

Justine Monseigne

Hi there! I'm a young graphic designer specialized in print; I love experimenting with new creative processes, materials and printing techniques.

I'm often described as a highly energetic person, constantly picking up new hobbies to feed my curiosity and thirst for knowledge. In my free time, you'll find me listening to indie music, knitting sweaters for my favorite people, or watching F1.

I love challenging myself and stepping out of my comfort zone. That's why I'm currently looking for a job abroad—to embark on a new adventure!
